

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE AND BIOGRAPHICAL DATA

Scottish Power Generation Legal Director and Company Secretary

Trustee of the Manweb Group Pension Scheme.

Personal profile and academic training

Alistair holds a Law Degree with Honours from the University of Glasgow. He also holds a Masters Degree from Balliol College, Oxford.

Alistair speaks English, and basic French and Spanish.

Noteworthy experience in the energy and industrial engineering sector

Alistair qualified with Dundas and Wilson CS in 1992. On qualification he worked in commercial private practice with a number of prominent Scottish Legal firms, specialising in intellectual property and information technology matters.

Prior to joining Scottish Power in 2006, as well as working in private practice, Alistair has worked for Scottish Widows and as the Chief Operating Officer of a firm of patent and trade mark attorneys. His first role in Scottish Power was as Director of Energy Retail, before moving to his current role as head of the UK's Liberalised Business Legal team where he has responsibility for thermal / hydro generation and energy management as well as retail matters. This work includes negotiating several multi-million pound outsourcing projects, advising on various regulatory matters with Ofgem, managing a number of high value litigation / disputes, and advising and acting as Company Secretary to the SPGHL Board.

Noteworthy experience in other industries

Alistair developed legal and management expertise in a wide range of organisations including Maclay Murray & Spens and Scottish Widows.

Other information

Outside work, Alistair enjoys spending time with his young family, and reading, rugby and rambling.